

Worthouse Inc. Lands top honors in MRA'S Best Residential Metal Roofing Competition for Ocala, Florida project

Q2 2022 Winner

The Metal Roofing Alliance (MRA) has selected a remarkable residential re-roofing project completed by Worthouse, Inc., a leading metal roofing manufacturer headquartered in Elk Grove Village, Ill., as the winner of its Best Metal Roofing Project competition for the second quarter of 2022.

The gorgeous, award-winning metal roof is the crowning touch on a stately 7,800 square-foot home that was built in 1994 and is located in Ocala, Fla. The home's new roof replaced a worn-out concrete tile roof and Worthouse and the installer, Innovative Sheet Metal, were able to overcome plenty of project challenges, including grappling with a range of different pitch elevations, complex detail work and an extremely tight two-week lead time.

These challenges—and the end result—are what made the project such a stand-out in the view of the MRA judges. The homeowners chose Worthouse's Supre modular metal roofing product made with 26-gauge steel that offers long-lasting protection against wear, corrosion and extreme weather conditions. Worthouse's metal tiles have been tested at wind speeds exceeding 200 mph and are designed to withstand severe Category 4 hail damage. The new roof also delivers an outstanding warranty, energy savings benefits and maximum curb appeal, complementing the home's beautiful architectural style perfectly.

“Quality metal roofs not only look great, they deliver excellent performance. In fact, many of our customers have experienced a decrease in energy bills and insurance premiums as a result of installing a long-lasting and reliable metal roof,” said Justin Wickham of Worthouse, Inc.

With the second 2022 quarterly winner selected, the 2022 Q-3 competition for MRA’s Best Residential Metal Roofing competition is now underway. The quarterly competition is open to all homeowners as well as builders, contractors and roofing installers in the U.S. and Canada (where allowable) who believe their metal roof project is the best based on either performance, style or both. The MRA is offering a $300 cash prize to each quarter’s winner and will showcase them in the organization’s marketing efforts. To enter MRA’s 2022 Best Residential Metal Roofing competition, simply upload a photo and a short project description at <https://woobox.com/kz4fzh>. For updated rules and more information, visit www.metalroofing.com.

