Tilcor Roofing Systems has joined forces with other metal roofing manufactures by becoming a member of the Metal Roofing Alliance (MRA)!

Installing a roof is one of the biggest decisions a consumer can make but not every job gets done right and not all roofing materials are the same. Increasing knowledge and awareness of the best possible choices is one of the reasons why advocacy groups like the Metal Roofing Alliance are so important.

The Metal Roofing Alliance has advocated for the metal roofing industry while educating the public since 1998. The MRA was formed with the goal of educating residential consumers about the styles and benefits of metal roofing. The membership is made up of metal roofing manufacturers and installers who are committed to upholding high industry standards.

As a global leader in stone coated steel, Tilcor Roofing Systems is proud to bring years of industry knowledge and experience to the Metal Roofing Alliance and excited to be a part of the effort to educate consumers on why metal is the best roofing option.

As an accredited member of the Metal Roofing Alliance, homeowners can confidently turn to Tilcor Roofing Systems for quality roofing products, capable consumer service, and materials backed by long, tough warranties.

From Tilcor Roofing Systems Vice President, Dave Mills: “We are excited to be joining forces with the MRA and look forward to further strengthening our position in the metal roofing sector.”
